- Some injuries from slips and falls on icy surfaces
- Probably some icy patches on some untreated roads, pavements and cycle paths

Further details

A band of rain, sleet and snow is expected to affect parts of east and southeast England during Friday morning.

For many this will fall as rain and sleet though away from coasts and particularly over any higher ground in Kent there is a chance this will fall as snow with some 1-2 cm of snow possible for a few spots.

Wind borne snow and sleet is likely to affect visibility on roads, adding to the difficult driving conditions.

Any snow will melt later Friday morning.
